Christ Community Health Services (CCHS) has partnered with Fleming Architects on several projects, which have included health centers, dental clinics, pharmacies, and administration and outreach offices. The Broad Dental Center, the first freestanding dental facility for CCHS, was a complete renovation of an existing building. The project included creating a new façade for the building and reorienting the building's entrance to face the adjacent parking. The transformed interior incorporates strategically placed bright colors, used as a means of way finding and highlighting specific functions in the space. The Dental Center contains an open hygiene bay, operator rooms, administrative offices, a classroom, and dental residency program space.

Christ Community included a classroom within their clinic to aid in educating the neighborhood children about dental care.
